

Dear Families,

In case you didn't see this in the newsletter -

To celebrate our wonderful school JKPS, in Spring 2025 the children contributed to a special collaborative art project, led by my parent Stefanie Posavec and supported by the Friends.

Each pupil created their own unique patterned square inspired by Judith Kerr's artwork, which has been brought together to form a striking pixelated 'Tiger, the beloved character from Judith Kerr's classic story, The Tiger Who Came to Tea.

This colourful design will be transformed into a beautiful ceramic mosaic wall reminding us that we are both individuals and part of a greater community. The artwork will create a lasting and welcoming feature at the entrance to our school for children and families to enjoy for many years to come.

To help raise the final funds needed to install this unique artwork, we are offering a selection of special keepsakes inspired by the mosaic. By purchasing an item, you'll not only be supporting the project, but you'll also own a lasting piece of JKPS history and a celebration of our children's creativity.

Items can be purchased here: <https://www.fojkps.org/shop>

Yours sincerely,

Friends of JKPS and JKPS Team
